yesterday in the convention. The debate closed early in the afternoon with another great speech from Roberts and the female suffrage provision is a part of the constitution, either for good or for eyil. We hope and pray that it will not prove the very excuse that the ene mies of Utah statehood were waiting for in order to attack the constitution upon its advent in Washington. It is right and proper to say here that so far as that provision is concerned, the constitution will be ratified by the people of Utah. There is certainly a majority for suffrage in this territory. Majorities unfortunately are not always right, albeit they always have their way in this country-save on the silver question. The people will loyally vote for the new constitution simply because they desire statehood and ply because they desire statehood and a vote against the constitution now, on this or any other proposition, will, in offset he a vote against the admission but the west would pay well for that effect, be a vote against the admission of the territory There are few bona fide, honest and patriotic people here who will refuse to vote for the constitation upon this or any other ground. We confess that it strains our patriof the convention would be. We are differ. compelled to how to the will of the majority, but with the greatest reluctance. We fear, as we have said all along, that when the east comes to act that ver remonetization as a principle, can it will be strong enough, with the president's aversion to the presence of two at the head of the democratic ticket, more free silver senators and one free upon a platform pledging the party silver representative in congress, to unequivocably to remonetization. THE history of the present constitutional convention indicates that the campaign next summer will be the liveliest which has ever been before waged in Utah. Men's passions are heated and there is just enough excitement among our fair sisters to insure a very hot time. The champions would do well be gird their loins and get ready for the struggle of the ages, at least so far as the west is concerned.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is a pictorial bistory of the times, it presents every important event promptly, accurately, and exhaustively in illustration and descriptive text of the highest order.

The manner in which, during 1894, it has treated the Chicago Hailway Strike and the China-Japanese war, and the amount of light it was able to throw on Korea the instant attention was directed to that little-known country, are examples of its most boundless resources, Julian Ralen, the distinguished writer and correspondent, has been sent to the seat of war, and there joined by C. D., Weldon, the well-known American artist now for many years resident of Japan, who has been engaged to co-operate with Mr. Ralen in sending to Hakffel's Weekly exclusive information and illustration.

During 1855 every vital question will be discussed with wigor and without prejudice in the editorial columns, and also in special articles by the highest authorities in each department. Portraits of the men and women who are making history, and powerful and caustic political cartoons, will continue to be characteristic features. This Busy World, with its keen and kindly comment on the lesser d ings of the day, will remain a regular department.
